Will eventually employ 100

Industry coming to Haliburton County

Dysart et al, and Haliburton County, for that matter, will have a new industry within 18 months that will employ as many as 100 people when it is in full operation. Dysart council and representatives of Thaler Metal Industries Ltd., of West Hill, met at Monday's council meeting to confirm that the industry was planning on locating a 25,000 square foot plant in the municipality, near Donald.

President of Sales for the company, told The Echo that the Haliburton plant would be manufacturing metal fireplaces and chimney pipes. He pointed out that 10 to 20 people would be employed when it started in operation and that would be increased getting as high as possibly 100 when the plant reaches full production.

He said presently the company is arranging the financing of the building and is hoping that within 18 months the factory will be up to one quarter or one half production on its products.

Mr. Scotchko pointed out that Thaler Metal Industries is a manufacturer of architectural and engineering products and presently is also involved in manufacturing tower light systems used by various people in Canada. He pointed out that the company has, in recent times, had some international offers.

In the formal part of the discussion between the council and the company officials, Reeve Murray Fearrey said he was looking for a firm commitment from Thaler. He said that he did not want the company to say they are going to build and then wait six years.

He pointed out that a commitment was also needed so that the municipality could get started on working on its end of the obligations.

The company officials agreed that they will be able to start next year.

Bob Bishop Sr., of the Haliburton County Industrial Commission, said that the situation where this industry was coming to Haliburton could never have been developed without the assistance and "hard work" of John Eakins, MPP Victoria-Haliburton.

Reeve Fearrey said that he was really gratified by the results of the work done by a number of people.

He gave Mr. Eakins credit for bringing the company representatives to Victoria-Haliburton to look for industrial sites.

Mr. Fearrey also thanked Bob Bishop and the Industrial Commission because Mr. Bishop convinced the company representatives that industry could work as well in Haliburton as in the south.

Mr. Fearrey said that the industry will be a benefit to the entire county because of its geographical location.

He added that he is convinced that there is the labor power in Haliburton and that the council is offering all of the help it can to get the company off on the right foot in the area.

Mr. Scotchko said that representatives of other industry had inquired to him as well about his company locating in Haliburton.

He said that a major item was the railway. Reeve Fearrey pointed out that the municipality has a firm commitment from the railway.

Mr. Bishop said that he is gratified as well and that the new industry is the first success of the industrial commission.

MPP, John Eakins said that he is delighted to be associated with Thaler Metal Industries. He pointed out that he met Mr. Scotchko by chance and then suggested that he locate in Victoria or Haliburton Counties.

Mr. Eakins offered his thanks to Dysart and the Industrial Development Commission because they had the information needed at their finger tips.

"I am sure Thaler Metal Industries will make a great contribution to the county and optimistic more will happen," Mr. Eakins said.

He pointed out that getting an industry like this does not come about by the efforts of one person, but instead by the efforts of many.

Mr. Scotchko agreed that the presentation by Dysart was one of the reasons for selecting the area to build the new factory.

Councillor, Roy Brohm, member of the council off and on since the early 1950's, said that he was very encouraged by the industry coming to the area.

He noted that it is a red letter day for Haliburton County and Dysart et al.

Senior housing will wait for sewers

A senior citizen apartment building will not be built in Haliburton Village until 1978.

In a letter to the council, from Sid Palmer, a representative of the Ministry of Housing, it is pointed out that the Ministry is always concerned with the costs.

He pointed out that the Ministry of the Environment had stated that sewers would not be installed for the area of the apartments until 1978.

Mr. Palmer said that the apartment project would go along with the sewers.

Reeve, Murray Fearrey told the council that the letter obviously meant a spring start for the project.

Mr. Palmer was writing in answer to a petition signed by 289 Haliburton residents asking that the project start immediately because of the great need for the senior housing in the village.

County should have industrial park comment

John Eakins, MPP Victoria-Haliburton, suggested that Haliburton County's municipalities should band together to form a common industrial park for the area.

Speaking to Dysart et al council Monday, Mr. Eakins said that he would like to see the county talking to the Ministry of Industry and Tourism, trying to get funding for an industrial park. He said that this type of assistance would be of benefit to the entire area.

"I think it is a new idea but I don't see why it wouldn't work," Mr. Eakins said.

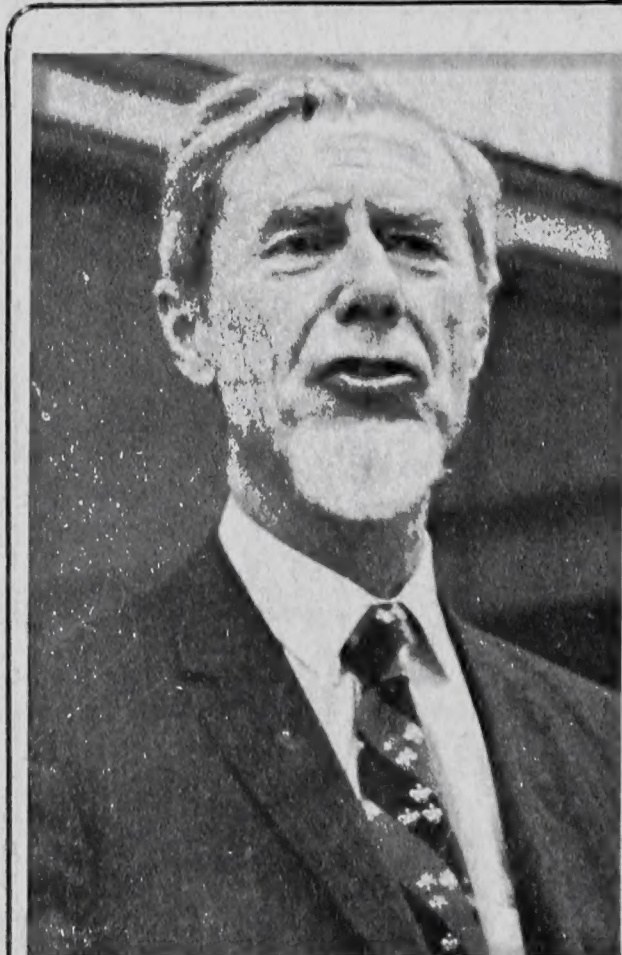

Zoning bylaw passed by council

Dysart et al council, Monday passed a comprehensive zoning bylaw which describes all of the land in the municipality.

Reeve, Murray Fearrey said that the bylaw reflects the existing use of property.

He pointed out that the bylaw will be going out with the tax bills and an open house will be held at the municipal building within three weeks of the bylaw being circulated.

Stanhope councillor dies in mishap

A 65-year-old Etobicoke and Stanhope man died early Sunday morning as the result of a boating mishap in Little Hawk Lake.

John Derek Tomlinson, 265 Markland Dr., Etobicoke, a councillor in Stanhope Township, was found floating about 15 feet from shore in about eight feet of water.

The Minden detachment of the OPP report that the deceased had been staying alone at the cottage on the north end of the lake. He had been at a friends for supper and evening and left for his cottage shortly after midnight.

A neighbor, Rodney Gilbert, of Scarborough, heard the deceased's boat idling about 1 a.m. At 6:45 a.m. the boat was still idling and Gilbert went to check. He found no sign of Tomlinson on the grounds or in the cottage. The victims boat had floated up against the shore.

Gilbert found the body about 40 feet from the dock.

There will be no post mortem or inquest.

John Schonhoffer, Manager of the Bank of Commerce accepts a cheque from Art Ward, on behalf of the Haliburton Rotary Club. The cheque is in aid of the people in Cobalt whose homes were destroyed in a fire.

All roads will lead to Haliburton next Wednesday night, July 20th, when the Royal Canadian Legion, Branch 129, will present the 32nd Annual Haliburton Legion Carnival at the Haliburton Arena and Fairgrounds.

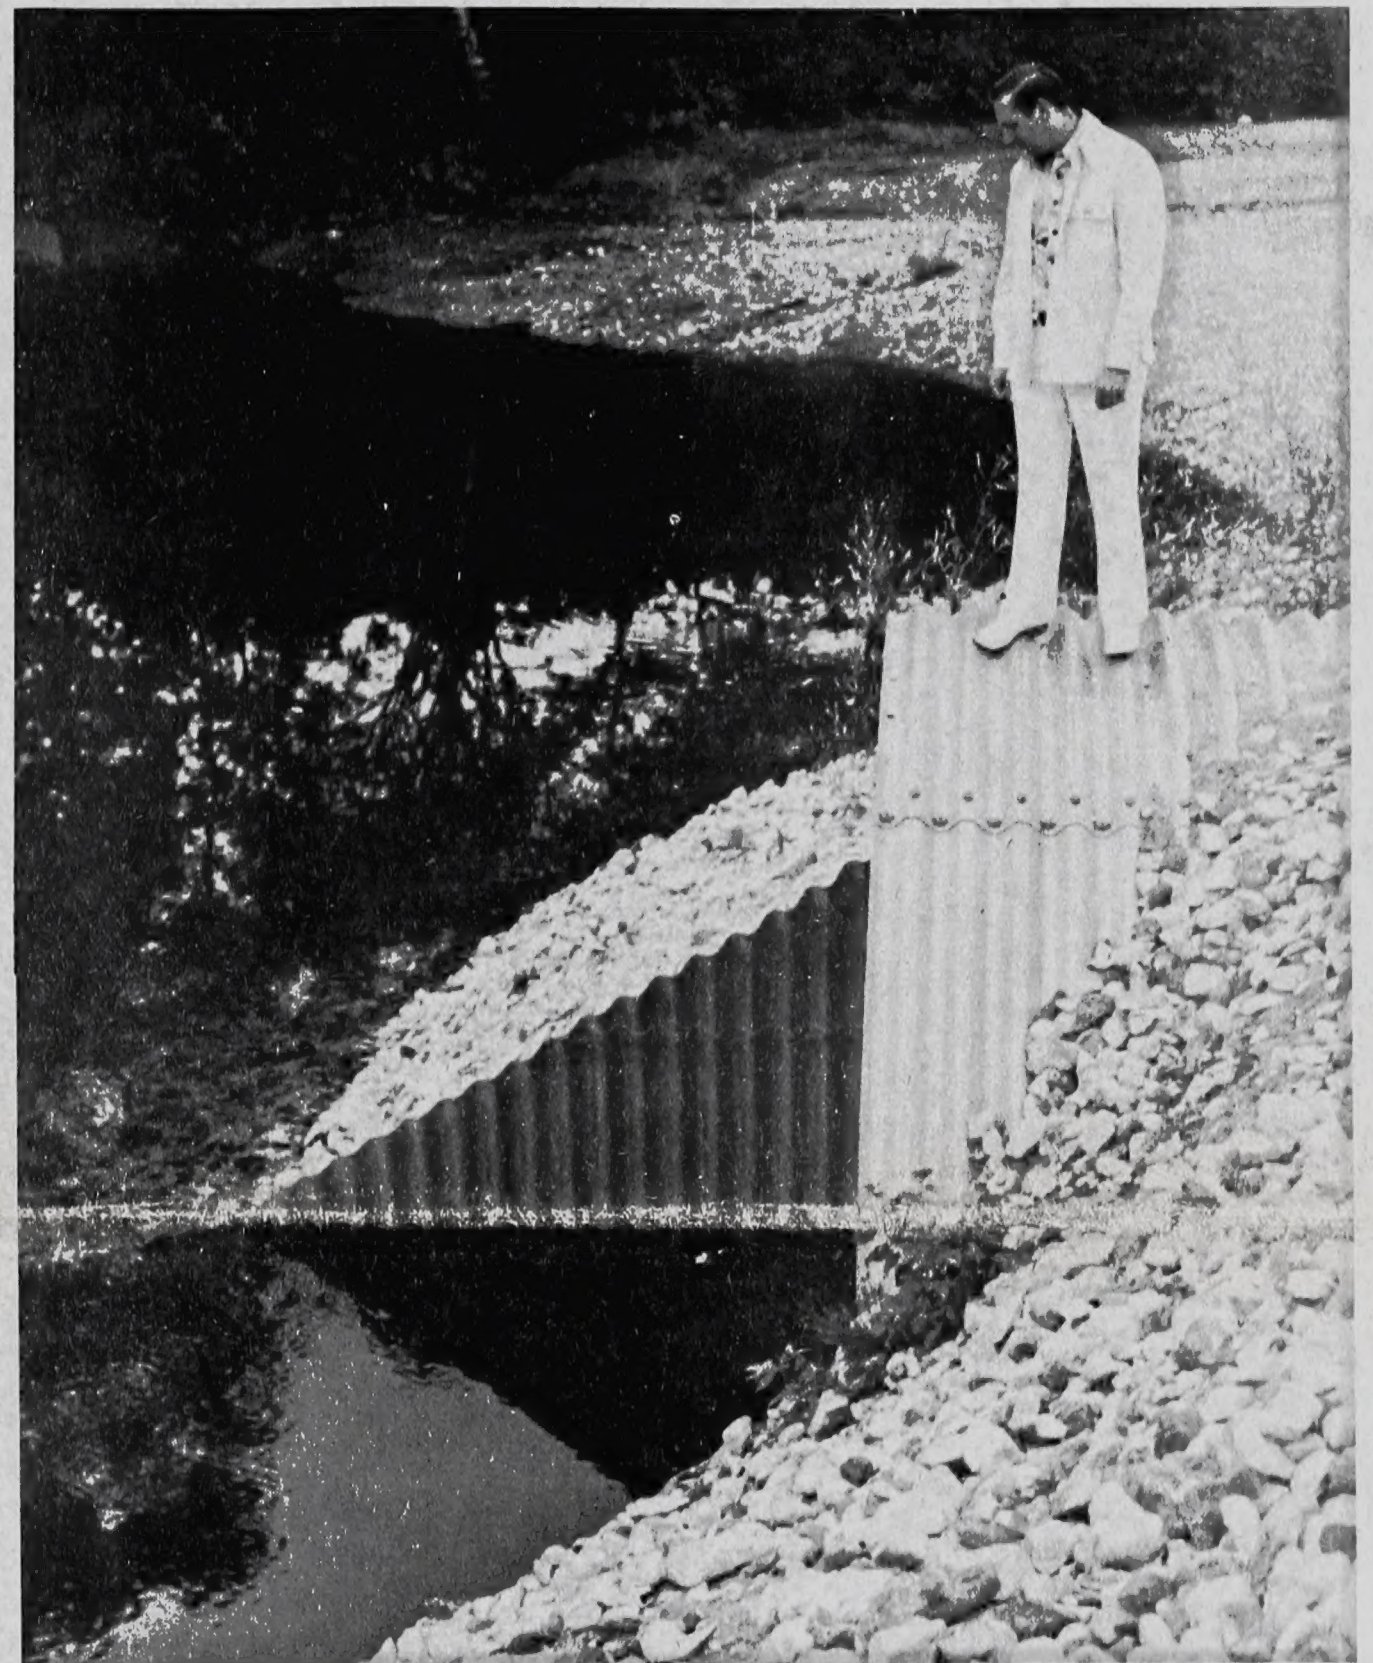

The evening will be kicked off by a parade at 7:00 p.m. with bands and marching units. As an added feature a band concert will be held at the Fair Grounds following the parade.

So step right up for an afternoon and evening of fun and thrilling entertainment. The midway will start into operation at 12:00 noon with games of chance, pop, hamburgs and bingo will be held in the Legion auditorium in the evening.

One of the highlights in the Arena, in the evening, will be the Talent Showcase Contest for cash prizes with singing, dancing and people playing musical instruments.

The big day will conclude with a draw in the evening for a 1977 GMC 3/4 ton with camper. This draw will take place at 11:00 p.m.

Make it a date now to bring along the entire family for the Legion Carnival to be held at Haliburton next Wednesday, July 20th.

Dysart et al council is concerned about the safety of youngsters swimming and diving in the area of the new culvert on the Drag River. Reeve, Murray Fearrey suggested that something should be done before someone drowns in the area. The council has decided to put No Swimming signs up.

Council wants a swimming ban at Drag River culvert

Dysart et al council is concerned for the safety of youngsters swimming from the culvert over the Drag River in Haliburton Village.

The council has decided to put signs up saying that there is no swimming in that area of the river from the culvert.

Reeve, Murray Fearrey

said that the situation is dangerous.

Councillor, Roy Brohm stated that the current is strong through the culvert.

Deputy-Reeve, Harold Bannon, said that the municipality will have to put signs up "that's all we can do."

Reeve Fearrey suggested that the youngsters were swimming there unsupervised and that something has to be done before someone drowns.

Stanhope raising funds to buy bleachers for baseball diamond

A 50-50 draw to be held in August is the latest fund-raising scheme of the Stanhope recreation committee. The goal is to get at least $500 with which they intend to buy bleachers for the Stanhope Recreation Park baseball diamond.

The draw will be held at the undetermined date of game between the Stanhope girls team and the firemen.

Dorothy Kinsman, chairman of the committee, said that as the bleachers are moveable and can be used for other events at the park, they will qualify as a non-capital expenditure, fundable by Wintario. The grant could match the amount raised through the draw.

Stanhope clerk, Gerald Bain, said future plans for the park are in the preliminary stage with a map currently being prepared to show existing development on the eight acres planned for the park, to assist in decisions on development.

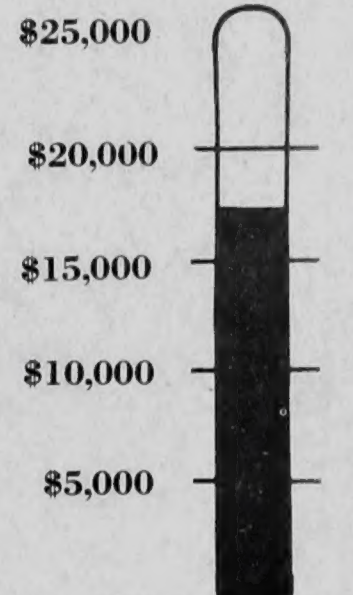

Stanhope council appointed the committee to work on the park and has agreed to an informal five-year plan, said Mrs. Kinsman.

She said the plan calls for a project every year. The first was the diamond and next is an outdoor skating rink which will be an area with boards so that it can be flooded.

The order of following projects has not been decided, she said, nor their nature, but they could include tennis courts, shuffleboard, a children's playground and other things.

Mr. Bain noted that there are at least four areas of funding that can be approached for the park, however, the process of getting the grants can be time consuming. Wintario alone could take up to a year and a half, he said.

The Dysart Community Centre fund has reached a total of $17,185 with its recent donations. The goal for the fund is $25,000. The most recent donation is $25 from Case Power and Equipment of Rexdale. Donations may be sent to Box 382, Haliburton.

Echoes of the Past

JULY 14, 1976

On a beautiful sunny day in Minden, the Hyland Crest Senior Citizens' Home celebrated their 10th anniversary. This was a banner day marking the end of Hyland Crest's first decade of operation. On hand to help celebrate the occasion were many of the people who helped start the bandwagon rolling some 15 years ago, as well as former staff and administrators.

In conjunction with the opening of the 1976 Olympics, in Montreal, the National Ski Team is doing some dry land training by bicycling from Toronto to Montreal, arriving in Montreal in time for the opening ceremonies of the summer olympics. Such World Cup Race champions as Kathy Kreiner toured through the Highlands last week on their way east.

The 26th Annual Minden Rotary Carnival gets off to a paddling start at 6:45 p.m. on Wednesday, July 25, with a canoe race in the Gull River at Minden, starting at the Rotary Park. This annual event finishes up at the bridge on Minden's Main Street - it is sponsored by Dr. David Stinson, a Toronto physician, whose grandfather was a prominent Minden businessman and a well known canoeist in the early 1900's.

The Haliburton Royal Canadian Legion, Branch 129 Annual Carnival was held here in Haliburton last night and it attracted a large crowd. The big night was kicked off by a parade of Legion veterans led by the Haliburton Legion Pipe Band. Following the parade the crowd headed for the arena and fairgrounds for an evening of fun and games.

Antiques part of old Echo office

Howard Clyde has been dealing in antiques for a number of years and now has brought the business to Haliburton.

He has opened "Echo's of Yesterday" in keeping with the name of the last tenant of the building, The Haliburton County Echo.

Howard told The Echo that he has been interested in antiques for most of his life and for the past 25 years has been at it as a business in Montreal and Toronto.

When asked why he settled on Haliburton, Howard said that he has been looking for a spot for some time, pointing out that he is tired of travelling doing shows.

He noted that even now he will go to England twice a year and quite likely will be travelling to continental Europe once on buying missions.

What does "Echo's of Yesterday" sell? Howard will tell you that it sells many different types of products.

Primarily "Echo's of Yesterday" is in the antique business and presently the highest number of objects are English with some Canadiana.

Howard pointed out that he will sell whatever type of antiques he can find.

The store is open six days a week for the summer and will be open on weekends during the winter.

The Haliburton Curling Club is presently being torn down. The club will soon be replaced with a new structure that will include a squash club and a senior citizen drop-in centre if the funds can be raised for the project. The new curling club will be built on the site of the old structure.

Arena deficit is nothing to be ashamed of

The Dysart Recreation Committee and the municipality have nothing to be ashamed of with the arena's $10,000 deficit.

Most arenas in Ontario run with a deficit. Very few of them in fact run with one as low as Dysart's.

The municipality was lucky for a number of years with the hockey school picking up the slack and keeping the arena from having a deficit. But prices are going up.

We now have to pay more for electricity, heating fuels and just about everything else we touch. So does the municipality and recreation committee when it comes to the Dysart Arena.

We have the other problem that is being faced by many areas as well. A lack of interest. It takes quite an attraction to draw many people into the arena these days.

People just don't turn out for a hockey game anymore. I suppose they would rather be entertained by their television set, at home and complain about the rising taxes in the municipality.

Service clubs are credit to community

The two major service clubs in Haliburton, Rotary and Kinsmen, both installed new presidents last week.

With the changing of the presidents, we, like others in the area, will reflect upon the good work of the clubs over the past year. The Rotary Club, the oldest of the two, has for many years been responsible for a great many of the social events in the community.

They have stepped in on fund raising projects on numerous occasions and helped the municipality get something it needs. Presently the Rotary Club of Haliburton is doing a job for the town by taking the responsibility of raising the money for the repairs and improvements to the Dysart Arena.

The Kinsmen Club, although only in existence for a short time, has established itself as a benefit to the community.

The crowning touch came a couple of weeks ago when the club was responsible for the First Annual Highland Home and Vacation Show.

The show has been called one of the more successful ventures in the Village for some time.

No senior housing in town until 1978

There will not be senior citizen housing in Haliburton Village until the summer of 1978 and it appears there is little that can be done about it.

Why isn't there going to be senior citizen housing until that time?

It is no fault of the municipality of Dysart et al, or no fault of the Ministry of Housing. The fault lies with the Ministry of Environment.

For a number of years the municipality has tried to get the second phase of the sewer project underway. During those years the Ministry of Environment was reluctant or wasn't able to give approval.

Well, as things go, development has become more and more dependant on sewers. Haliburton is learning the lesson, none too soon, and we are going to get some building because of the sanitary system.

Feir Play

by Creighton Feir

It appears that certain people will have to go back to school and learn to read or possibly get their eyes tested. The municipality have posted a sign with large letters appearing on it at the Rotary Beach, at Haliburton, that states "NO DOGS ALLOWED ON THE BEACH." Although this sign is here, dog owners are still bringing their dogs to the beach which proves to be a general nuisance to the people who come to swim or just lie in the sun. It all boils down to the fact that dogs are not supposed to be running loose and it's just about time that these dogs were picked up and the owners assessed a heavy fine.

It's not too often that we have the opportunity to get up to the local ball park and see a ball game under the lights. Last Tuesday night, after we put the paper to bed, I took some time off to go up to the park and watch Haliburton and Minden play in a real thriller with Haliburton coming out on top by the close score of 3-2. It was a real pitchers duel with Craig Stamp on the mound for Haliburton and Snell pitching for Minden. It was a great game and the fans that watched the game enjoyed every minute of it. There are plenty of bleacher seats available for the fans and they aren't all filled so if you want to see some thrilling softball why not drop up to the park when the games are on and see some of the thrilling games played by the teams that make up the Tri-County softball league.

At a recent meeting of the Haliburton Rotary Club, Dave Bishop was fortunate in bringing in an outstanding speaker. His name was Gordon Demetrick whose firm was responsible for the Excavation and shoring at the new Eaton Centre in Toronto.

Plans are now underway to construct a new modern museum at Glebe Park in Haliburton on Head Lake. This will replace the present museum located at Rotary Park.

We sometimes wonder if there is enough money floating around to cover all of the major draws that are being held in the area at the present time. The Haliburton Kinsmen Club, the Rotary Club, the Royal Canadian Legion and the Recreation Club of Harcourt are all selling tickets on four separate vehicles with prices ranging for tickets from $5.00 to $10.00. We hope that we are wrong, but it is our opinion that there is just so much money to go around and someone is going to come short.

The dumping of garbage into picnic barrels throughout the area seems to be a continuing topic of conversation. It seems that some of the cottage owners and possibly some of the local people are too lazy to go to their nearest dump and are dropping their garbage off in the barrels which have been placed alongside the highways. We had a note last week from a woman who lives in Gooderham who claims that apparently its all right for the cottage owners to put their garbage in the picnic site area barrels. We have to agree that this is all wrong and its too bad that some of these people can't be caught and brought up into court.

Our good friend Walter Webb of Haliburton, who is a very active man in the community, dropped into our office the other day and brought us in an article which was taken from a Port Perry newspaper of 50 years ago. It appears that Walter, who lived at Uxbridge at that time, was very active in sports in his youth. We quote from the article which appeared recently in the Port Perry Star under the heading Remember When. On Wednesday, July 6th, 1927, Dominion Day Celebrations were well attended in Port Perry. The foot races were well contested and were watched with keen interest. The following were winners. Mile race, 1st Walter Webb, Uxbridge, 2nd Will Owen, Port Perry. 220 Yard Dash, 1st Corless Ashenurst, Uxbridge, 2nd Walter Webb, 3rd Forbes Nasmith. 100 Yard Dash, 1st Walter Webb, 2nd Corless Ashenurst, 3rd Orr Shunk. Walter is still in pretty good condition and we don't doubt that he would still make a good showing in a foot race.

Well they have finally got around to doing some work on the grounds at the information centre at the Caboose near the first crossing at Haliburton. A beautiful new sign has been placed in front of the caboose, some landscaping has taken place and all that is needed now is some flowers to really set it off. Let's make it as attractive as possible for visitors who come into town for information.

Editor's notebook

BY JIM BADGLEY

Haliburton Village is a growing community. How do you know it is growing? By the number of rumors about development that are around.

There are things that we can see. There is a new curling rink in the makings, plans for enlargement of some other public facilities. We hear of plans for the building of new parks and most of all, we keep hearing about new commercial ventures coming to the area.

In the various communities that I have lived in during my 27 years, I have found that these rumors, although not always true, usually have some truth to them.

Mercury pollution has become a main topic of conversation for a number of people these days, especially cottage and resort owners.

I would think that a full study should be conducted by the government, into the lakes of the area.

According to a news release last week, from the Haliburton Highland Chamber of Commerce, only a couple of lakes have been surveyed. Of the few surveyed, one was found to have a high mercury content.

How many others are there? We would think that there are others. The question then is how dangerous is the mercury contamination?

Perhaps the government should get it all together and let us know just what the damage is. If there is no danger then we shouldn't be troubled by the problem.

In the Muskoka area, where mercury seems to be hitting the lakes hard, we find that few people are paying much attention. Watching a television show on the problem the other night, I learned that most, at least most of those interviewed, were paying little attention to the problem.

The thing is though that if it is a problem, let's pay attention to it. If it isn't a problem, perhaps the government should give us more information.

As others see it

Tin cans, bottles in garbage

Dear Sir:

While using the dump facilities on the Scott's Dam Road yesterday, I happened to take a good look at what had been thrown away. There appeared to be great quantities of tin cans and glass bottles in addition to other garbage.

Since conservation of natural beauty and natural resources is being slowly encouraged by all branches of the government, could there not be some provision made by the local governing bodies in the Haliburton Highlands to encourage year round and summer residents to re-cycle some of their refuse.

The obvious materials for re-cycling would be tins, glass and paper. Large metal containers could be left at the dump sites with identifying signs for people to separate their garbage. The tin cans, glass and paper could be resold and re-cycled as it is now done in many communities around the province. Monies earned in this manner could be used to offset the expense of maintaining the dump sites throughout the Highlands area. Not only could this cut down on the enlargement of dump sites but it could also encourage all residents of the Highlands to conserve non-renewable resources.

I do hope that some effort will be made in the near future by local councils to encourage conservation of beauty and resources.

Sincerely,
M.N. Miller

Doctor needed in Minden area

In the months that Dr. Lodenquai has practiced in Minden he has gained the confidence and respect of a great many patients and acquaintances.

This man's medical knowledge, professional ethics and old fashioned charm has brought to our village a glimpse of the family doctor we all felt might be a thing of the past.

Minden is weary and discouraged, when time and time again good doctors come to our community only to leave again in six to twelve months. Finally we have a doctor who would like to make his home and practice in Minden.

I trust circumstances will permit him to stay and we the people of Minden and area will let it be known that another permanent doctor in town is needed and wanted.

Driving is a serious matter

Driving a car is a serious matter.

The slightest mistake or a moments inattention can result in death or serious injury. The faster one drives the more likely an accident will occur. Unfortunately, many Ontario residents would rather ignore the fact.

According to the Ministry of Transportation and Communications more than three-quarters of a million speeders were convicted in Ontario courts in 1976, an increase of over 100,000 more than in 1975. Out of this number a staggering total of 6,587 drivers were convicted of driving 30 or more miles an hour above the speed limit. And those are only the drivers they caught.

Other irresponsible driving habits are also on the increase. Last year 58,377 drivers were caught running stop signs, an increase of 560 over 1975. An additional 46,555 motorists were convicted of running red lights, a 10 per cent increase over 1975.

Even worse, 3,123 drivers were found guilty of failing to stop for a standing school bus.

Speed limits and other rules of the road are not there just as advice to be followed when it happens to be convenient. They are critical traffic controls which need to be followed if our highways are going to be better than savage rubber and steel jungles.

It wouldn't be so bad if only the irresponsible driver was injured in an accident. However, innocent people are often involved too.

Driving carelessly is no less dangerous than playing with a loaded gun in public. It is just a more common occurrence.

But because it is more common doesn't mean it should be treated lightly. People who ignore the rules should be rewarded with more than just stiff fines. Their driving privileges should be taken away for a minimum of three months. Then maybe some motorists who now act irresponsibly will start to treat driving seriously.

Minister doesn't want exams

A report released last week, by Education Minister Thomas Wells, recommends against the reintroduction of province-wide examinations in Ontario's school system as the sole means of promotion.

The 13-member work group, composed of mostly teachers, was established by Mr. Wells last fall to consider evaluation and reporting methods. Their report stated that province-wide standardized testing should form only one part of a broader program of student evaluation.

The work group also recommended that the evaluation of student achievement primarily remain the responsibility of classroom teachers and that considerable effort should be made to improve the evaluation and testing skills of teachers.

Mr. Wells said that some of the work group's recommendations can be implemented very soon, specifically that a bank of tests related to specific curriculum objectives be developed and made available to teachers to help them diagnose pupil strength and weaknesses.

Mr. Wells said that because of the work group's stand on province-wide testing and on the basis of the Ministry's own analysis of province-wide and state-wide testing programs now in use in the United States, the Ministry will give further study to determine what course of action is in the best interest of Ontario pupils.

Sept. 6 set for change to metric on highways

Ontario's 13,000-mile provincial highway network will go metric effective Sept. 6, Minister of Transportation and Communications James Snow announced today.

"My Ministry will convert all provincial highway signs to metric units as Ontario's part in a Federal Government directed Canada-wide conversion. Conversion of the 42,000 signs will begin Sept. 6th, the day after Labor Day," Snow said.

Replacement of existing speed signs with overlay kilometre distances will take about two weeks.

Kilometres (km) will replace miles on distance signs; kilometres per hour (km/h) will replace miles per hour on speed limit signs; and metres (m) will replace yards and feet on advisory signs.

"Ontario drivers will soon discover that actual speed limits haven't changed; that distances between towns and cities are the same; that driving times haven't changed. Just the method of measurement will change," Snow pointed out.

Snow cited some examples to demonstrate the differences between miles and kilometres and miles per hour and kilometres per hour.

"We know that 1.6 kilometres equals a mile. So, using this as a conversion factor, you simply move the decimal point one place to the right, and you see that 16 km equals 10 miles.

"Speed limits will be based on units of 10 km/h and motorists will find the new metric speed limits easy to recognize because of the striking difference in numbers between mph and km/h."

For example:

40 km/h replaces 25 mph
50 km/h replaces 30 mph
80 km/h replaces 50 mph
100 km/h replaces 60 mph

Snow explained that metric conversion is part of the national plan developed by all provinces - except Manitoba which opted out - in conjunction with the Federal Metric Commission.

"Adoption of the metric system brings Ontario in line with all major countries outside of North America," he said.

Snow noted that motorists should have few problems adjusting to metric signing.

"Most European countries have used metric for many years and countries like Australia and New Zealand have changed to the metric system in recent years with few problems for motorists."

A second phase of metric conversion of Ontario Highways should begin in April, 1978, Snow added. All commercial vehicle permits, vehicle weights and dimensions, and weight restrictions are expected to be changed to metric measurement at that time.

"The new 1977 Official Ontario Road Map now available will also help drivers. It gives point-to-point distances in kilometres, and is scaled to metric measurement," he said.

The Minister also noted that many 1977 model cars have dual speedometers showing kilometres per hour and miles per hour; that by 1978, all new cars will have metric speedometers and odometers.

For older cars, overlay stickers or gear converters are available from many automotive suppliers," Snow concluded.

Mother concerned about vaccination

Washago - Has your child been vaccinated for red measles? A Washago mother asks this question of other parents as her son lies in critical condition in hospital from measles complications.

Stephen Gelineau, 17 year old son of Mr. & Mrs. John Gelineau (nee Doreen Harrison, Washago) is confined to Toronto General Hospital with encephalitis, an inflammation of the brain, an after-effect of red measles.

Stephen developed measles June 4, after his sister, Diane, 15, had them over the May 24th weekend. On June 7th he was admitted to Soldiers' Memorial Hospital, Orillia, with a temperature of 105. After 10 days he was taken to Toronto General Hospital by ambulance where he remains in a semi-conscious condition. He is paralyzed and can only move his right hand. He can hear but cannot talk. His mother said Friday.

Although Stephen has no infection in his body now, his temperature still goes up to 105 F, she said. Mrs. Gelineau said Toronto neurologists told her Stephen's case is one in 1,000 as there are as many kinds of encephalitis as there are viruses. There is no treatment now known.

One of Stephen's specialists in Toronto said he has a 50-50 chance of surviving. The attending neurologist said he has a 30-70 chance.

Should he survive, after all this time with a high temperature, his chances of a complete recovery are almost nil. "Paralysis has set in his body, due to the swelling of the brain cells, and the only thing left for him is prayer and faith," Mrs. Gelineau said.

The Gelineau family moved to Washago from Lauzon Rd. in Windsor, in October, 1975. Stephen's father suffered a nervous breakdown in May, 1970 and had to leave Chrysler Canada Ltd. in Windsor, where he had been employed as a journeyman electrician since 1952.

Stephen, formerly a student at the Orillia District Collegiate and Vocational Institute, planned to enter Georgian College of Applied Arts and Sciences, in Barrie.

this fall to take a course in hotel and restaurant management.

Juveniles charged in break-ins

Two 15-year-old juveniles have been charged with break and enter as the result of an investigation into the break-in of a cottage which took place July 6.

The OPP report that the cottage of Ronald B. Rudlings, 44, of Markham, on Little Boshkung Lake, was broken into while the owner was out for a while.

The juveniles charged are both from the Toronto area.

Well it's the good old summer time once again and the time when some of the young drivers like to hit the main street and put on a show in the wee hours of the morning. One night last week many of the town folk were awakened from their sleep with the screeching of tires on the village streets. We would like to see the police crack down in this area and possibly with the co-operation of the courts these speedsters would have their licenses suspended.

DPD Construction are to be congratulated on the wonderful concrete job they have just completed on the new sidewalk and retaining wall on the Main Street in Haliburton.

For weeks now we have been hearing the cry that we are trying to bring visitors into Haliburton and giving them very little service. For instance, it's no secret that after seven or eight o'clock at night there wasn't a restaurant open where you can go in and sit down and have a lunch. Well, we have good news. Marks Coffee Shop, on the Main Street in Haliburton, is now staying open until midnight. So now if you're hungry in the evening you can drop in, sit down in comfort and enjoy a good lunch.

We thought that we would close our column this week with this little poem written by my father, Berkeley Feir, the former editor of The Echo:

Whenever you are far away,
Or in distant lands do roam,
You'll find the Haliburton County Echo
Like a voice from home sweet home.

Bill Smiley
The real Mafia

You were probably surprised and a bit shaken by that recent CBC television show "Connections," all about the permeation of Canadian society by organized crime: the Mafia, the French Connection, the Hong Kong Connection, and so on.

Neither surprised nor disturbed me. I've known all about it for about four decades. In fact, I'm amazed that the CBC didn't interview me, if they wanted something authentic about the beginnings of organized crime in this country. I was there.

Of course, at the time, I didn't realize what I was getting in to. I was in my early teens. But the pattern, looking back, was obvious. There were two Families in my home town, the Salvatis and the Guaracchis. Showing little originality, both operated behind the front of a fruit store. They were both from Sicily, and they were bitter enemies. If Sammy Salvati ran a special on fresh asparagus, you can bet your armor-plated vest that Joe Guaracchi, after sending one of his boys down to check the prices in the store window, would undercut him by a dime. Back and forth went the skirmishes, but we ordinary small-town punks caught only once in a while the savage internecine warfare that went on behind the fruit store fronts.

The Salvatis, for example, tried to assimilate. They joined the United Church, to set up another front, and it's been rumored that they "laundered" a lot of their ill-gotten gains by syphoning them through that organization as donations.

On the other hand, the Guaracchis went on speaking Sicilian, threatening to murder their kids if they didn't work harder, and muttering about their "connection" with Rome.

At the time, I belonged to a gang of young hoodlums who hung about in the town's two pool rooms, those of Bob Loblaw and Sylvester O'Toole. One of our gang, the Chinese connection, was Joe Hoo, scion of the only Chinese family in town. As you can see, it was quite a cosmopolitan municipality, although the population was only 4,000.

We were a pretty vicious crowd, but it was Depression years, so that we didn't have the opportunities of today's punks. There was no point in snatching purses from old ladies; there was nothing in them. No point in mugging elderly gentlemen for the same reason: broke. We didn't drink, because our fathers couldn't afford to have it around the house to steal.

Helling around on motorcycles, of course, was out of the question. But we did terrorize a few neighborhoods by riding our second-hand bicycles on the sidewalks and occasionally right across someone's lawn.

I don't want you to think for one minute that we weren't taking out our subliminal frustrations and latent aggressions against society. We were.

At least once a week, we'd lean out the third-floor windows of the local Chess, Chowder and Cribbage Club, which we were allowed to use, as junior members, from nine to 11 on Sunday nights, in exchange for janitorial duties, and spit on passersby below. There weren't many — passersby, that is — on a Sunday evening in a small town, but occasionally we'd hit one, shout "Tally-ho!" and toast each other in Pepsi. But it was through our other thuggish (yes, I admit it now) activity that we became deeply involved with The Mob. This activity was stealing from the outside stands of — you've guessed it — the town's two fruit stores.

From the outset, it was obvious that we'd come under the wing of one of the two Families. It didn't take long to see where we were heading. The Salvatis kept a good lookout, shouted loud, in English, and would chase you all the way to the river to get back a lousy peach.

But the Guaracchis, although they too shouted, in Sicilian, were fat and couldn't run. And we had an ace in the hole. One of our gang was one of their boys, Phil Guaracchi. We terrorized him into utter submission by threatening to expose his membership in the club to the Godfather, Joe Guaracchi, who would have thumped him into a very small pizza, indeed.

So we had an inside man. He'd tip us off when his old man was off with the truck to Buffalo, where he had a close connection with the Bananas gang. We knew exactly when he'd arrive back with a truckful of bananas, grapes, you name it, and laid our plans as carefully as the IRA.

The minute the new fruit was put on the outside stands, one of our gang would go into the store and ask Mama Guaracchi if Phil could come down to the pool room. While she was haranguing him, the rest of us would stuff our shirts and head for the park for a gluttonous gorge.

It was only a step from there to getting into the Godfather's cellar and home-made wine when he was out of town. Next thing you know, a couple of us were running dances, at 50 cents a couple, with beer in the back room in a tub of ice. We used to promise the orchestra $25 and then beat them down to $15. The money just rolled in. Some weeks we made enough to pay a little off on our bill at the pool room, where we habitually played on our "nerve." That is, without funds to pay for the table, if you lost.

There was only one direction we could go, and we'd have wound up more debased and debauched than the Dubois brothers of Montreal, if the war hadn't come along.

Some of us got killed. Some of us had a worse fate. We stayed alive and got married. The old gan broke up. But don't tell me about the Mafia. I was there.

Waterway traffic up

Traffic on the Waterway for the week ending June 19 was still up slightly with a year to date total of 17,288 boat movements compared to 16,638 for the same period in 1976.

Boaters using the Waterway should now be familiar with the new Speed Limit Signs situated along various sections of the Waterway. In some areas there have been problems with vandals removing or destroying the signs. This is costly, and it also creates hazards because other boaters unaware of a speed limit may travel faster than is safe for that particular section.

Repeated small rainfalls in the past week have kept Kawartha Lakes levels up so that minimal amounts of reservoir water have been required. On July 4, the reservoir storage stood at about 66 per cent having lost only 2 per cent since June 27. During weeks of heavy drawdown, 4 per cent or more is consumed.

This week the reservoir outflows have been reduced a little more and prospects are that it may be another couple of weeks before larger amounts of stored water are required.

Kawartha Lakes outflows down the Otonabee River are still being held between 500 and 600 cubic feet per second.

Homeowners:

Beware of home repair "rip-off artists"!

Here are things you can do to protect yourself.

If you are considering home repairs:

- Do not let someone talk you into doing work you weren't planning to have done.
- Always obtain estimates from several reliable firms.
- Insist that all details be written into the contract before you sign—including the type and amount of work to be done, any extras, and the total cost.
- Keep the down payment to an absolute minimum.
- Never pay in full until the work is finished to your complete satisfaction.
- If financing is necessary, arrange it yourself with a bank or reputable finance company.

In addition, your Provincial government wants you to know what your rights are under the Consumer Protection and Business Practices Acts.

- The Consumer Protection Act allows you to cancel any contract, to be performed and paid for in the future and signed in your home, if you send a registered letter within 48 hours of signing—even though work has already started.

- The Business Practices Act provides fines and jail terms for people who deliberately deceive, mislead or lie to consumers.

This and That

BY JENNIFER WOODS

I know we should refrain from giving snacks to our children and ourselves, for that matter, but we are human and we all love sweets. So really the ideal solution is to have snacks available that are healthy and nutritious. I have three recipes Chocolate-Covered Banana Popsicles, Yogurt Popsicles and Fruit-in-Season Popsicles that fit the bill for snacks and desserts. So when your children ask for some candy or pop you can gladly give them a frozen treat that they will benefit from. While your at it sit down with them and have one yourself.

Chocolate-Covered Banana Popsicles

- 6 bananas (not too ripe)
- 12 oz. package chocolate chips or carob
- 6 tspn. sunflower or corn oil
1. Cut peeled bananas lengthwise and impale with a popsicle stick.
2. Place on baking sheet and FREEZE for one hour.
3. Melt the chocolate chips in the top of a double boiler over hot water.
4. Add oil and stir until smooth. Keep over warm water while dipping.
5. Take bananas from the freezer a few at a time.
6. Dip and roll them in the coating making sure it covers all the banana.
7. At this point the bananas can be rolled in crushed nuts for a real treat.
8. When covering congeals place them on individual squares of foil paper. Wrap and freeze.

Makes 12 popsicles.

Yogurt Popsicles

- 1 pint plain yogurt
 - 1 small can frozen orange juice
 - 2 tspn. vanilla extract
- Stir all ingredients together. Plastic popsicle makers are the best, but you can use paper cups and popsicle sticks. They are really great and so easy.

News from Extindicare

BY DR. O.W. ANDERSON

Mrs. Myrtle Pritchard has returned back to us, Tuesday, after her stay in a Peterborough hospital. It is nice for her to get this over with and feeling better.

On Wednesday, Mrs. Myrtle Johnston was taken by ambulance to St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough. We wish her the very best.

Wednesday afternoon was our movie day. Miss Laurie Brown of the Haliburton Library brings these movies into our activity room. This is a relatively new project sponsored by the Lake Ontario Regional Library Board of which Mr. Stan McDougald is the chief. We are very grateful to Miss Brown for bringing these movies to us. The first movie was about the early settlers of the Great Lakes region, showing their hardships and hazards. One item in this film showed how easily a barn could be burned without the experienced handling of a lighted lantern, and further, the generosity of the pioneer neighbors in helping in the building of a new barn.

The next film was of the zoo at Calgary, Alberta. It is very nice to see the marvelous prosperity implied in our sister province in having such a grand exhibit. A third film was of fishing in Northern Labrador. The people fishing showed remarkable common sense, that despite their good luck in catching two beauties of trout, they were satisfied with that as enough to take home. Further catchings were released as little harmed as possible.

Mrs. Mary Currah is lucky to have two weeks holidays from her work at Extindicare to spend with her sister at Oshawa and from there to a family reunion.

Pastor Glen Rosch was our spiritual leader for the devotional period held Friday morning. His theme was based on the ninety and nine, and on the similarity between a flock of people and a flock of sheep, that in either case they follow the leader. He further dealt with the sorrow over a lost sheep and of the great joy in finding the lost. In this setting he stressed that Christ is our shepherd. As has been usual, our singing was delightfully accompanied on the piano by Pastor Rosch's daughter, Sandra. It is a delight to all of us to hear the piano played to our singing as it should be.

One thing that bothers us is this hassle between Atomic Energy of Canada Limited and Argentina, or are we not supposed to know anything about such matters. As we see it, A.E.C.L. sells a Candu reactor to Argentina for $180 million, then A.E.C.L. under the table sort of slip Argentina $180 million back. If we have not got our facts straight we fail to see how anyone, anywhere, can do better what with all the secrecy in A.E.C.L. and government. It is difficult to understand how any person, carefully chosen as he must have been, to head this Crown Corporation, could allow this to happen. Secrecy is the best weapon of Government, it adds to Mr. Trudeau's popularity, and covers any chicanery.

We think we should mention our deplorable sewage disposal by a sewage tank truck. Several times daily it must traverse Park St., turns left and to the lights, then along 121 to the sewage disposal plant. Over 250 people are patiently awaiting the remedy that is promised. It can happen in the elderly. On Sunday, Mrs. Rosina Dukes had an x-ray taken and it unexpectedly showed a broken right hip. There was no story of a fall, and though she could bear her weight, the right leg did ache. We learn that soon her hip will heal and everything will be alright.

On Saturday, Mrs. Darlene Darby picked a bunch of radishes from our garden and served them to us at our noon meal. That is our first. It is impossible that many have been eating them for a month, but the top soil in our garden does not seem to be as perky as it should be.

Kitchen renovations are popular

A recent survey shows that more money goes into kitchen remodeling than any other home improvement project. That indicates Canadian homemakers place more importance on the kitchen than any other room.

However, turning your dream kitchen into reality is not always easy. There's many a pitfall along the way for the unwary. While appliances are important, good-looking cabinets that offer efficient storage and counter space are really the heart of a well-planned kitchen. They set the decor and they create working convenience. What would the room be without them?

Whether you're remodeling an old kitchen or moving into a new home, it's essential to choose cabinets that will stand up to the hard day-in-day-out use they're sure to get.

Do the doors close properly... are the hinges strong enough... will the finish stand up to spills of a hundred and one varieties? Those are just some of the questions you'll run into.

Luckily, there's one sure way to protect yourself against problems. The Canadian Kitchen Cabinet Association has developed a set of nationally recognized standards for kitchen cabinets and bathroom varieties. Known as CSA Standard A278, it establishes levels of satisfactory performance covering materials, construction, installation and tests.

Members of the Canadian Kitchen Cabinet Association -- made up of the major manufacturers across Canada -- pledge to observe the standards and submit their products to the entire series of rigid CSA tests.

Known as the CKCA, the association worked with the CSA and consumer groups to develop the tests. These set detailed standards for appearance, fittings, quality of material and construction, resistance to impact, alignment and operation of shelves and doors, correct installation and many other areas.

A further protection is offered the consumer in that all CKCA members are responsible companies manufacturing their products in established factories to pre-planned designs and specifications. None are made on site in temporary workshops or in someone's basement.

The consumer gets the full protection of the association when buying from a member company, according to CKCA executive vice-president Jack McCracken of Ottawa. A list of members or other information is available from the Canadian Kitchen Cabinet Association, 27 Goulburn, Ottawa K1N 8C7.

"We're here to help the consumer obtain satisfaction and assurance," Mr. McCracken said.

Slow Cookers

One of the newest kitchen appliances is the slow cooker. The long, slow simmering of food, a process known for centuries, has been revived by this electric appliance. A temperature dial gives low and high settings and many have an automatic setting which allows the cookers to start at high and then switch to low. The low setting produces a temperature in the range of 170°F - 200°F, and the high will reach temperatures of up to 280°F. These are well above the unsafe temperature range of 40° - 120°F. For the busy cook, this appliance can mean freedom - simply combine ingredients, set the temperature, and let the cooker do the work all day. The juices from each ingredient will give the meal an exceptional flavour. Slow cooking can also be economical because you can use cheaper cuts of meat. The long simmering will make them tender. High-protein peas and beans that require long cooking, such as lentils and soybeans, are ideal for a slow cooker.

YOUR DRINKING WATER MAY BE UNSAFE.

The Ontario Government says: "Even without human intervention the water of a lake or stream is unavoidably exposed to contamination at any time. Surface runoff can pick up fertilizer and wash over animal droppings (or carcasses) on its way to the lake, and birds are not dainty in their habits."

"... lake water should not be used for drinking without prior treatment. Even if you test the water and find it free of bacteria, the results tell you only that the sample (you took) ... was pure."

Report from Queen's Park

BY MPP JOHN EAKINS

Facing almost certain defeat by the combined Opposition Parties on its proposed pop-can tax, the Government dropped the bill from its list of priority items. No indication has been given that this bill will be reintroduced in the Fall Session. The tax measure, first proposed in the April Budget, was expected to raise some $20 million in provincial revenue. Now that the legislation has been scrapped, the Government will be forced to make spending cuts equivalent to $20 million in programs of various ministries to avoid exceeding the $1 billion deficit expected for this year. Revenue shortfalls of about $140 million beyond April Budget forecasts have already become apparent.

The other Budget bills have now been passed. The Liberal Party amended the Retail Sales Tax Act bill, and we opposed both the Tobacco Tax Act and the Corporations Tax Act amendments.

Approval has been given to a change in Ontario speed limits from miles to kilometres, effective September 6th. Provincial work crews will begin making the changes after Labour Day, putting stick-on signs bearing the new markings over existing road signs. Thirty mph becomes 50 kph (31.2 mph), 35 and 40 mph become 60 kph (37.5 mph), 45 mph becomes 70 kph (43.7 mph), 50 mph becomes 100 kph (62.5 mph).

Although the change becomes law on 6th September, the metric speed limits will not become effective until the new signs are in place. In the meantime, existing speed limits will be enforced. During debate on the bill, the Minister of Transportation and Communications agreed to have Highway 69 approaching Sudbury, which at present has a 50 mph speed limit, converted to 90 kph, the metric equivalent of 55 mph, which will place the highway on the same footing as Highway 11 between Huntsville and North Bay, kept at 55 mph when the province's other two lane highways were given the 50 mph limit. Highway 11 is part of the Trans Canada Highway and the federal government wanted a uniform 55 mph limit across the country.

The Government was strongly criticized by both Opposition Parties during debate on second reading of the bill setting up a new Ministry of Northern Affairs. Northern Ontario MPP's with both the Liberal and New Democratic Parties, took the opportunity to air longstanding complaints about what they termed southern indifference to the problems of the North.

Liberal Pat Reid (Rainy River) said also that the Government's recent move to lower the cost of car licenses to a flat $10 in Northern Ontario is only a cosmetic measure, because it does not affect half-ton trucks, pointing out that it is well known that "half the population of Northern Ontario drive half-ton trucks."

Stuart Smith, Leader of the Liberal Party, has accused the Government of "making huge profits" and becoming "champion speculators" in its programme to sell single-family lots to builders in Scarborough's Malvern Development for $33,000 - eleven times what the land cost the province to acquire and hold.

Speaking in the Legislature, he told the Minister of Housing that the government's position makes it impossible for builders to supply homes under the AHOP programme - which sets an upper house price limit of $47,000.

The Minister admitted that the land is being sold and promised to investigate. Dr. Smith subsequently pointed out that the province bought 1,704 acres in 1953 and, as of 1972, the cost to the province per acre - including buying price and overhead - was $2,767. He said the government should "deliberately depress" the prices and let the lots on the market all at once "rather than in dribs and drabs as any speculator would." He does not agree with the government's position that it makes money on this property and uses the profit in other public ventures. If there is going to be a "windfall" to anyone, "it should be to the person who buys the home," he said.

Student placement

The Canada Manpower Centre for Students in Peterborough has had a booming month of June. A total of 377 students registered for summer employment this month bringing the total figure since the centre's opening in February to 3,108. In 1976, 324 students registered during June, a total of 2,382 to the end of June.

The placement of these students has increased considerably since 1976. Last year, 336 students were placed in jobs during June, a total of 606 for February through the end of June. In June, 1977, 604 students were assisted in finding employment, bringing the total figure so far this summer to 972.

Personal visits have been made to 248 employers in the Peterborough area in an effort to solicit more job vacancies.

The Student Manpower office has found that most of the jobs are in agriculture (haymaking, strawberry picking) and the lodge and resort industry.

Students seem particularly enthusiastic about searching for jobs this summer, perhaps because of the realization of a highly competitive job market. Their enthusiasm is reflected in much positive feedback from satisfied employers and the Canada Manpower Centre for students expects to keep up the quality service to both employers and students alike.

854 get jobs through Canada Manpower

During the month of June, 1977, the Peterborough Canada Manpower Centre placed 854 persons in regular full-time employment including nine who were referred to jobs in other parts of Ontario according to Public Relations Officer, John Mahoney.

In addition, 219 people were placed in temporary or casual jobs, he said.

Under the Canada Manpower Mobility Program, nine people were assisted in their move to areas for employment where their skills were in demand. Fourteen other people were authorized for exploratory assistance for job interviews in other areas.

The Canada Manpower Centre which services Peterborough and Haliburton Counties, plus the Townships of Emily, Somerville and Verulam in Victoria County as well as Percy and Seymour Townships in Northumberland County, as well as the town of Campbellford, processed 2742 new and revived applications for employment during the month. A total of 9,221 persons were registered at the Canada Manpower Centre as being unemployed and seeking work at the end of the month. Of these, 2,893 are registered at the Canada Manpower Centre for Students as being available for work now.

There are 250 persons presently attending retraining courses at Sir Sandford Fleming College.

A one hour information session on the Canada Manpower Training Program is available by appointment the first and third Thursday of the month at the Canada Manpower - 10:00 a.m.

The news of the pending layoffs from Outboard Marine's Pioneer Chainsaw Division has generated increased activity within the Canada Manpower Centre.

There is a surge of new registrations occurring from those already laid off - those who have received their notice - and those who expect to get it - and they cover a wide range of occupations: from assemblers to engineers.

In addition the wives of workers are registering now in greater numbers and some of the wives who were registered for part-time employment are now seeking full time. This comes at a time when retail outlets are trending more towards part-time employees than full-time.

Applying for a Social Insurance Number for the first time? Don't listen to how someone did it last year.

Two things have changed.

Where you apply for a Social Insurance Number and what you need when you apply. Where? Your local UIC office. What will you need? Proof of your identity.

If you were born in Canada, you'll need a primary document like a birth certificate or a baptismal certificate from Quebec. Naturalized Canadians need their citizenship certificates. If you're a landed immigrant you'll need your immigration papers. Originals or certified copies are needed.

You'll also need secondary identification. It can be something official with your name on it, like a driver's licence or a school report card. Here photocopies are fine.

You don't want these important documents lost or misplaced. That's why we ask you to go, in person, to your local UIC office. They'll approve your documents on the spot, help you with your application and send it to Ottawa. You can take your documents home right away. You'll get your Social Insurance Number card in the mail.

If you can't get to a UIC office you can go to a Canada Manpower Centre or you can mail your application direct to Ottawa. But you'll have to send original documents or certified copies. And if there are problems with your application or documents it's going to take longer to iron them out than it would face to face in a local office.

Establishing your identity is the best way to make sure your Social Insurance Number stays with the right person. And that's pretty important.

From the Chamber

BY BOB STINSON

In connection with last week's news release from the Chamber we would like to clarify one important point. When we suggested that there may be quite a number of lakes in the same condition as Koshlong, we were also stressing that there is really nothing wrong with the condition of Koshlong. Mercury was found there only in older trout and in small enough quantities not to be considered dangerous. Natural Resources employees have voiced the opinion that this is not due to pollution of any kind, but a natural phenomena caused by the rock formations in this area. If this is the case the condition has always been with us and probably always will be.

The Haliburton Guild of Fine Arts have certainly outdone themselves this year at their exhibition and sale being held currently at the Senior Elementary School. Not only is there an excellent display of crafts created by many of our local people, but also crafts and demonstrations presented by artists of some considerable esteem from outside the area. If you haven't already visited the show you still have a few days left as it runs for the balance of this week.

The Chamber has prepared a poster listing all the main events happening throughout the summer and have distributed a number of these to our members to post on their bulletin boards to advise tourists in the area of the many things to see and do. If you have a place to display one of these posters and we have not delivered one to you yet, please drop in at the Chamber office and pick one up.

Haliburton Highlands tartan is presently in very short supply, and the Chamber must once again consider bringing in a new stock from Scotland. Tartan ordered now will arrive sometime next December. The Chamber would appreciate it if anyone planning large purchases of the tartan would please contact our office immediately and advise us of their intentions.

The Wilberforce Country Good Times Jubilee celebrations are coming up July 22, 23 and 24th. Folks around Monmouth Township are gaining a considerable reputation for producing top notch events of this nature. This year's Good Times includes a giant parade, a midway, helicopter rides, displays of local crafts, an amateur contest, teen dance, a silver jubilee ball, a horse draw contest, pancake breakfast, beer gardens and a new feature this year, a trade exhibit. Following hot on the heels of this event is the Minden Rotary Carnival with their parade starting things off on July 27th. Letters are presently being circulated asking for participation in this parade and we do hope that our business communities will get behind it and see that it is a large success.

Rooms have been somewhat disrupted at our office and welcome centre during the past week. Our Young Canada Works staff have been busy painting and remodelling and due to the somewhat inclement weather have been concentrating on the interior for the past week. The building is now looking bright and new and clean both inside and out and sports sixteen feet of brand new counter just inside the door, which provides 48 feet of literature rack for the perusal of our visitors. The girls have been busy phoning our members to ensure they have a supply of literature in our office to display in these racks, and we do urge you to keep a good supply on hand with us so that we can attempt to do a good job for you.

Another Young Canada Works program that is directly involved in tourism is the Kinsmen Project on the Harburn Natural Wells. This project, although farm from being complete, is well worth the trip for anyone wishing to see this natural phenomenon. Drive out the Harburn Road, go past Haliburton Lodge approximately two miles to Ritchie Lake. You will find a small clearing here in which to park on your left and a short walk up a fairly steep hill, at which point you will find a product of nature which has still not been explained.

We are extremely pleased this week to welcome into our business community Tony and Joyce Pennick who have just purchased Sun Valley Cottages and Restaurant just north of Minden on Highway 35 overlooking Mountain Lake. Tony and Joyce have moved here from the Hamilton area and are working very hard on their new venture. Do drop in for a coffee and say hello and make them welcome.

This week's "Tip of The Hat" goes to Dominion Department Store, in Haliburton, and in particular, its owner, Grant Rae. Grant was recently honored by the executive of the Haliburton Minor Hockey Association for his many, many years of work which he had provided for their benefit. Anyone who can devote as much time as Grant has to running an up-to-date, modern retail business, which is a credit to his town, and still have time and effort left over to devote to community efforts, certainly deserves a "Tip of The Hat."

Haliburton Highlights

BY CREIGHTON FEIR

The Haliburton Highlands Pioneer Museum is now open for the season daily from 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. The museum is located in Haliburton Village adjacent to the Rotary Beach.

We have been trying for a long time now to get a reading on the lakes in Haliburton County from the local health unit. What we want to know is that if a lake or lakes are polluted the public should know about them. If certain lakes are polluted and unsafe for swimming, let's put signs up saying "No Swimming - Lake Polluted." It's only fair that we should know. This business that it might hurt the tourist industry is a bunch of malachy. If a lake is polluted let's come out and say so and clean it up. For instance we now have swimming classes going on at Haliburton and West Guilford. Are these two lakes, for instance, safe to swim in?

Speaking of swimming. The purpose of a Personal Flotation Device is to keep you afloat on the water. Buy a government approved lifejacket. Make sure it's the right size, and make sure you know how to fasten it. This is a tip from the Red Cross Water Safety Service.

Our congratulations this week to the number of Haliburton Highlands Secondary School students who were on the school's honor roll.

Cordell Carpets at Haliburton has a new name. It's now Cordell Interiors Inc.

The former Haliburton County Echo building is now open with a new business known as "Echos of Yesterday" with antiques and nostalgia. They are featuring the largest and best selection of antiques in Haliburton County. It's located next to the Haliburton Red & White.

Open air church services are being held every Sunday evening at 7:00 p.m., at the Haliburton Ball Park. Why not drive up and take in one of these services. Each meeting features an outstanding speaker.

We understand that more sidewalk construction will take place in the village but that the work cannot be done until the second phase of the sanitary sewer system has been completed.

The next big attraction coming up is the Country Good Times weekend which will be held at Wilberforce on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, July 22, 23, 24. See the ad in this weeks paper with the many attractions because we know this is one event that you won't want to miss. We were there last year and it was a really big show. This years event promises more of the same.

If you are interested in playing better tennis why not attend the Wig-a-Mog Tennis Clinics - $4.00 an hour and private lessons $10.00 1/2 hour. Tuesdays and Wednesdays for court time. Call 457-2000.

"But whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst" John 4:14.

Of the many rich promises which the Lord Jesus gave to His followers, none was more extensive and comprehensive than that which is embraced in the saying given in John 4:14. It is the most positive assurance of redemption man could desire, and it encompasses all the saved person's spiritual needs, past, present and future.

Among all the so-called "natural" appetites and needs of fallen man, there is none that exceeds his thirst for God. The search for Him is truly the ceaseless quest and no human ever finds full and lasting satisfaction until he finds God. Riches and all the luxury that wealth can obtain are but a temporary relief, even as fame and prestige also fail to satisfy the sense of need felt by every intelligent human being. We were created to glorify God and to enjoy Him forever, and as long as we are separated from communion with the Father we never know contentment in the true meaning of that word. The horror of that separation is not in the thought of eternal flame, but in the fact of an eternity spent in outer darkness with no possible way of being relieved from the separation sin has caused.

So when Jesus said, "Whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him," he was holding the cup of salvation to the parched lips of humanity, and placing within the reach of all who would take it, eternal satisfaction. To receive the Lord Jesus Christ is to end the search for completeness which was lacking in the search and prompted it. In Him we receive the true purpose of our being and living. Those who drink of the Water of Life stop searching.

That ended search is not true of any of the world's great religions. Christianity stands supreme in this, it alone is life-giving and truly satisfying. The best that Islam can offer its followers is a dim hope of a future state of happiness. It gives its adherents no "indwelling" spirit of a known salvation. So, with the Buddhist or the Brahmin, and many other enticing religions, these may look forward to a distant time when troubles may be ended, but are unable to lay hold of a present confidence and be able to say, "At such a time and place I found God through His Son, and peace and joy have filled my soul ever since." This confidence is found in Jesus only, no other can give it. The Water of Life alone can quench the thirst for God and at the same time make a bubbling well of water come forth from the recipient which flows out to others still in search.

This overflowing supply of grace and love is what makes missionaries of God's children. It gives an irresistible urge to carry the message of salvation in Christ and share it with other races and people. Should anyone find the Christian life parched and dry, the fault does not lie with God, here is no lack in the normal life of God's born-again children if they drink daily at the "Fountain" of Life. Little time spent in prayer and Bible study may bring the stream to a trickle, the daily volume will be in proportion as it is made use of. Giving the Holy Spirit only a small place in the daily affairs of life brings a consequent draught in the soul.

You can drink at the fount of education today and be just as thirsty tomorrow. Others saturate themselves with the waters of philosophy and still remain parched and dreary persons. There simply is no substitute for the Lord Jesus Christ, and no source of true soul satisfaction outside of His grace.

He who takes a deep draught of the Living Water of salvation in Christ, finds his taste for lesser delights completely ruined. He who has the "best" no longer seeks the "good," and in Jesus Christ the Christian is possessed of all that God has for those who have found Him. Since Christ Himself is our Living Water, the fount can never dry up, hence the future also is secure. Why not try the "Fount" in your search for meaning to life?

The Word of God

BY BRIAN V. SULLIVAN

We continue our discussion of last week, in which we were examining the references that Jesus gave to his impending death. On the Mount of Transfiguration, we find that Jesus again makes reference to his death. The disciples had asked about Elijah, who was to come before the Lord, and Jesus declares that he had already come, and they had done what they desired regarding him. Notice what he adds in Matthew 17:12 (last part of verse) "...likewise shall also the son of man suffer of them."

Continuing our sweep through Matthew's gospel, we read in Chapter 17, verses 22-23: "and while they abode in Galilee, Jesus said unto them, The son of man shall be betrayed into the hands of men; and they shall kill him, and the third day he shall be raised again." Did you notice the newest detail Jesus added in that passage? Jesus has just now indicated that he would be betrayed prior to being killed.

Matthew 20 supplies us with even greater details surrounding his death. Here is the record of Matthew 20:18-19: "Behold, we go up to Jerusalem, and the Son of man shall be betrayed unto the chief priests and unto the scribes, and they shall condemn him to death, and shall deliver him to the Gentiles to mock, and to scourge, and to crucify him; and the third day he shall rise again." This almost appears to be a report by hind-sight (that is, looking back; and yet, remember that Jesus is speaking of these things even before they have begun. Let's breakdown the passage; a) the Jewish leaders would condemn him to death, but not kill him themselves; b) it would be at the hands of the Gentiles that he would be mocked, scourged and crucified. Truly, Jesus was well aware of what would happen. The very next reference sets forth the reason for his death. Jesus indicates, in Matthew 20:28 that he came to "give his life a ransom for many." Indeed he had, everyone of us had sinned and we needed the redemption from sin and the hold of Satan. Christ, by his death would pay the price and by his resurrection would free us from the bondage of death, and fear of death.

In Matthew 26:2, Jesus declares that the passover is drawing near and that he would be betrayed and crucified. This not only gives us an approximate time, but also the method by which he would die. The fleeing of his disciples is also brought to light in another statement in the same context. Then in Chapter 26: verses 37-45 we find him in the garden praying and the supreme example of his willingness to do His Father's will is exhibited in his statement: "no my will, but thine be done."

Later when Jesus is taken away He states that this is being done, that the scriptures might be fulfilled. His trial, his mocking, his scourging and crucifixion were exactly as the scriptures had foretold, and in complete agreement with what he had revealed during his ministry. Next, we will consider the importance of all of these factors. See you then.

OTTAWA and Small Business

by JIM SMITH

In the midst of the universally heralded energy crisis, it comes as some surprise to learn that Canada's energy suppliers continue to function in blythe ignorance of this disaster.

How else can one explain pricing policies of the nation's electric utilities that reward extreme consumption of this increasingly rare and vital energy?

Several decades ago, when there was, in most parts of the country, sufficient water power to generate far more cheap electricity than the nation could use, the utilities devised a pricing scheme to encourage greater consumption. Small-scale consumers were charged a base rate per kilowatt hour; as consumption increased, the cost decreased. Ultimately, the energy-hungry major industrial users ended up with by far the cheapest rate per unit of electricity.

The electrical supply situation has changed dramatically in recent years, of course. For the most part, Canada's hydro potential has been exhausted. Additional electricity means construction of coal, oil, or nuclear generating stations, all of them very expensive to build and enormously costly to operate.

The basic engineering fact of electrical life, however, is that Canada has far more generating capacity on hand right now than we need for the foreseeable future — except for some very brief periods during the day when demand jumps sharply. These brief periods of extra demand are called "peak periods" and the electric utilities plan their capacity to meet the peak demands, not the average demands.

And what causes these peak periods? A few very heavy users of power. The same firms that get the lowest rates because they use the most power. Or, to put the matter another way, the users who are responsible for the highest costs pay the lowest prices.

The small users of electricity — both smaller firms and households — pay much more for electricity than it costs the utility to provide it. The big users pay less than the cost.

The logic may escape you. Certainly it escapes the Canadian Federation of Independent Business which is currently intervening in an Ontario Energy Board hearing concerning pricing by Ontario Hydro. The C.F.I.B. argues that power users should pay the cost of their service. Not only should the subsidies for major users be eliminated, but these users should be charged higher rates equal to the cost of providing their electricity.

The Ontario Energy Board decision will shape pricing policies of virtually all Canadian power utilities. And the major power users have allied to mount a strong defence against loss of their privileged position.

But the real issue is non-negotiable. In an age when energy is increasingly vital and increasingly rare, Canada simply can't afford to reward excessive use of this precious natural resource.

Let's go Boating

Tips On Buying A Power Boat

Part I It's fun, and it's exciting but there are a number of things to consider when you're buying a power boat. So arrange your priorities first.

Be selective. The Allied Boating Association of Canada says, "Do your homework." It's an important purchase, and your dealer will work with you to make sure you're satisfied with your selection. After all, he wants to stay in business and he needs satisfied customers.

The main decision is yours. Be specific about needs. Establish exactly what you want, in speed, power, capacity, stability, range and economy. If you are honest in your assessment, it narrows down the choices and directs all your attention toward the boat you need, want and can afford to buy. Of course, this would also apply to sailboats and other type of craft other than a power boat.

Power boats come in three

The Norland Horsedraw was a success again this year. Taking top spot in the heavy class was Dwight Corbett. John Laurensen was first in the light class while Elaine Corbett was number one in the ladies division. Jim Chynoweth was first in the pony class.

major groups. Outboard, inboard, and inboard/outboard which is a boat equipped with an inboard engine, coupled with a drive train much like the lower unit of an outboard motor. Within each group is a wide range of horsepower—from ONE horsepower outboards to 475 horsepower inboards. When a manufacturer designs a power boat, he has a specific engine size or range in mind. The whole boat is shaped and built to accommodate and perform best within a certain range of horsepower.

Within each of these power groups are many different types of boats—open runabouts and utilities, cabin cruisers, fishing boats, pontoons, houseboats, racing boats, deep water cruising and fishing vessels. One of these types will suit your power boating plans best.

The bottom of a boat deserves a lot of attention. It's shape and width will determine stability and performance. A wide bottomed boat is usually a stable boat. The flatter, the faster, and usually the rougher! The deeper the "vee," the smoother the ride you can expect. However, deep-running boats take more power to achieve the same speed. This is one of the choices you'll have to make in terms of your needs.

Check for workmanship to be sure that decks, railings, aluminum moldings, rivets and gaskets are well mounted and secure. If there are flaws in these highly visible areas, it may mean mediocre workmanship throughout the entire boat. So check carefully. Sturdy construction is one of the most important factors to consider in your purchase.

A FEW HINTS FOR PACKING A CYCLING LUNCH

- Concentrate on saving space. Pack compact foods such as Ry-King. Pack the whole, unopened package rather than transferring slices to another container. The package also adds protection.
- Assemble sandwiches at your destination. It's much more fun and the food travels far better when it is packaged separately.
- Wrap your toppings in aluminum foil to help keep the food intact and cool.
- Carry a pocket knife with you rather than a regular kitchen knife with an exposed blade.

The Haliburton Guild of Fine Arts annual show and sale has been quite a success this year. The show has attracted a number of spectators to see the exhibits and buy the crafts. The products at the show are being judged and The Echo will have a story next week announcing the winners. The show continues until the end of the week.

Agricultural news

One of the best ways to learn new ideas is to visit some of your neighbors and find out how they do things.

With this idea in mind, several Farm Organizations in Victoria County are planning farm tours this month. These tours are open to anyone interested in attending. They will help farmers see new ways of doing an old job—and they are also an excellent opportunity for non-farm folk to find out a little more about how our food is produced today.

The Victoria Soil and Crop Improvement Association is holding three Crop Tours, on three successive Thursday evenings, starting this Thursday, July 14th.

This week's tour will feature Cereal Crops; it starts at 6:30 p.m. at Harry Hall's farm on the 3rd Concession of Mariposa, then visits the farms of Bob Dykstra, Bill Pearson and Frank Graham, before ending at Art Barkey's to tour the grain handling facilities and to hear about Art's recent trip to farms in South Africa on a Rotary Club Exchange.

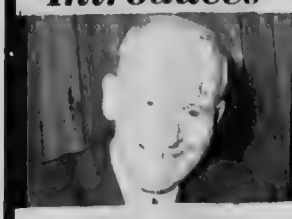

Next Thursday, July 21st, the Crop Tour will feature Forage Crops. This tour starts at 7:00 p.m. at Alwyn English's ranch on the 8th Concession of Ops, just north of County Road #5 (behind the Lindsay Drive-In Theatre). The tour then visits the farms of Keith and Norm

If you are the kind of person who really likes to go out and have a good time your opportunity is coming up. It's your chance to take along the entire family to Wilberforce to help them celebrate the Silver Jubilee at the Country

Good Times which will be held on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, July 22, 23 and 24th.
The big event all gets underway on Friday, at 6 p.m., with exhibits at the Curling Arena - midway, merry-go-round, ferris wheel chair-o-plane, tempest, loop

- o-plane, etc. There will be concessions, food, a beer garden and plenty of entertainment.

At 7:30 p.m. there will be a beauty contest at the Lloyd Watson Centre when the Jubilee Queen will be chosen.

At 9:00 p.m. the popular musical group "Kkuff" will be at the Lloyd Watson Centre to supply the music for a teen dance.

Saturday will be the big day when the midway will swing into operation with Robertson
Rides plus exhibits at 12 noon.

The highlight of the big weekend will be a 1 p.m.
when the Silver Jubilee parade, the biggest parade ever to be held in Haliburton County, will strike off featuring several marching bands, clown troupe, majorettes and floats. This will be followed by costume displays and local crafts.

At 2 p.m. if you are thirsty you can have a drink at the beer garden at the Lloyd Watson Centre. At the same time music lovers will be able to attend the amateur contest or attend the bake sale. The Jubilee Ball, with music by the Rivals, will be held at 9 p.m.

On Saturday it's pancake breakfast at 9 a.m. The midway will open at 1 p.m.
and from 1 - 3:30 p.m. in the Library you will have the opportunity to view the Silver Jubilee displays and local crafts and nature films, plus concessions, food and refreshments.

At 2:30 p.m. it will be the horse draw (heavy class and light class invitational.)

Some of the extra features at the big weekend will be contests, games, prizes, shows and helicopter rides.
Hey kids, you can win a radio for the best decorated bicycle in Saturday's parade.

So, to sum it up, when you talk of a fantastic weekend it's going to be well worth you travelling to Wilberforce for the Country Good Times Weekend on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, July 22, 23, and 24.

As you can see by this write-up, there is plenty of action and fun for the entire family. We attended this big event last year and were really surprised at the all out effort put on by the citizens of Wilberforce for a weekend that will long be remembered.

Eakins wants to know when tourism will roll

John Eakins, MPP for Victoria-Haliburton, said that he will be questioning the Minister of Industry and Tourism on what his ministry intends to do to get tourism rolling again.

In a news release from Mr. Eakins, he noted that in the first quarter of 1977 the number of visitors to Ontario (from outside Canada) was down by eight per cent over the first quarter of 1976, which had to be "a disastrous year for tourism in Ontario."

He pointed out that the number of Ontarians choosing to travel outside of Canada has been increasing and by an average of 8.5 per cent every year since 1974.

"I informed the Minister of this situation earlier in the week and unbelievably his reply was that we have a 'climatic condition in this Province' that may not present as favorable an opportunity to tourists as in other parts of the continent. That is simply unacceptable to me," Mr. Eakins said.

He noted that as the Minister, he should capitalize on the very "climatic condition" that makes this province unique and offers to tourists something different in terms of recreational activities at that time of the year. "In effect this province has two tourist seasons and to all but write-off our winter season due to inclement weather is an abrogation of one of the Minister's prime responsibilities," Mr. Eakins said.

He suggested that given the importance of tourism to the economy of this province in that it represents our second largest industry, and given that the growth rate of revenues generated from tourism has been declining since 1974, the Minister re-think his attitude toward this province's two tourist seasons and start to promote the merits of each in order to reverse the decreasing trend we have experienced in terms of both visitors and revenues in the last few years.

"In all fairness I believe that I, as the critic for Industry and Tourism, went along with the slump in tourism to a certain degree last year in that it was largely due to factors outside of the Minister's purview such as the U.S. Bicentennial and the Montreal Olympics. But, to tolerate a further decline this year over last year is simply unacceptable to me and I intend to keep right on top of the latest figures in our tourism market to ensure that the Minister is doing all he can to recapture for this province the tourist dollars we have been deprived of and that we so desperately need in order to restore vitality to our all-important tourist trade," Mr. Eakins said.

Nila Reynolds has two books published

Nila Reynolds has had a unique experience in the month of May.

Nila, who is famous for her history stories of the area, had two books published in May.

Dream of Excellence, a book which goes hand in hand with the Art Show presently being held by the Guild of Fine Arts, and Before the Memories Fade, were both released in May.

Mrs. Reynolds said that Dream of Excellence was started in 1974 and is now just completed. The story of the book is about arts and crafts in the county of Haliburton.

She pointed out that the book contains a number of interesting items with a great deal of copy, centering around Ethel Curry, who was trained by the Group of Seven.

Mrs. Reynolds pointed out that Mrs. Curry brought a number of famous artists to the area during the 1930's.

Before the Memories Fade is a story about the history of Carlow and was started by a request of senior citizens in the township and Victoria-Haliburton MP Bill Scott.

Mrs. Reynolds said that the groundwork for the book was done by the senior citizens of Carlow who gathered up a great deal of the information needed by using funding in a New Horizons program.

When the township became part of the riding, the senior citizens asked Mr. Scott about a possible writer and he suggested Mrs. Reynolds.

Mrs. Reynolds said that among the material in the book that interested her was the Indians and logging.

She pointed out that the Indians in Carlow were a very visible part of the Carlow area until the 1930's which made a great deal of information possible to obtain.

Mrs. Reynolds told The Echo that everyone in the area has been helpful on her book writing experiences and noted that Berkeley and Creighton Feir helped her a great deal when she was younger, by publishing her work in The Echo.

Bill Andrews will be sailing in Lake Ontario this summer and possibly in the Atlantic Ocean next year in this 37 foot cement boat. The boat, which he built by himself, can be seen being pulled up the driveway at Bill's place in Harcourt. The boat was taken to Toronto where Bill hopes to shake it down in Lake Ontario before heading out to the ocean.

Harcourt man builds 37 foot cement boat in his backyard

Bill Andrews of Harcourt isn't exactly sure how he will spend the next few years, but likely it will be on a boat.

The boat in particular is a 37 foot cement boat he built, and last week had shipped to Toronto.

The boat has a waterline length of 32 feet, 10 inches, has a 12 foot beam and draws four feet, ten inches of water. It weighs 29,100 pounds finished.

He said that he is planning on sailing the boat, but that is about how much he wants to be definite about.

Bill told The Echo that he is planning on "sailing as much as I feel like sailing."

He pointed out that he lived on a 40 foot launch in the Bahamas for a "couple of years," but he isn't necessarily going back there.

He will be spending one year in Toronto "shaking the boat down." If everything is alright then, Bill plans on taking a trip.

He said that he likes to refer to the trip as "going cruising."

Plans for the boat began in 1968 but Bill didn't actually get down to starting the construction until 1970. From that time on building the boat has been a part time job, which consumed hours as if they were real time.

Bill ended up in Harcourt to build the boat, because he said that is where his mother was from. Bill himself was born in Toronto.

Bill Andrews stands beside his boat while it sits on a trailer waiting to be towed to Lake Ontario. The boat, which weighs 29,100 pounds, is made out of cement.

Boat accident results in vessel charges

A boating incident on Salerno Lake resulted in a Port Credit man being charged with failing to keep a proper lookout under the Canada Shipping Act Small Vessel Regulations.

The Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police report that a 14 foot aluminum boat, operated by Garry Joel Swayze, was stopped on the lake. Swayze, 17, of R.R. 1, Bimbrook, Ont., told the police that he was tightening the motor clams.

Swayze said that he saw another boat approaching and he stood and waved and then jumped overboard as the vessel struck the side of his boat. The 16 foot boat was powered by a 50 horsepower motor.

The Minden detachment of the OPP report that the driver of the 16 foot boat was John Douglas Morrison, 25, of Port Credit.

The larger boat was pulling a skier at the time.

There was $100 damage to the Morrison vessel and the damage was not estimated on the Swayze craft.

Morrison received a cut hand in the incident. The accident took place Sunday at 7:40 p.m.

You can't please everyone

You just can't seem to please everyone.

Sid Roberts, Dysart et al's road superintendent received a letter last week addressed to the municipal council, suggesting that it took a great deal of skill to have the oil truck run out just as it was approaching a certain property on Kennis Lake.

Mr. Roberts said that the truck goes as far as the oil will go in a tank and that more road was oiled in that area this year than last year.

Councillor Roy Brohm jokingly suggested that the municipality could raise the taxes to make it possible to oil this persons portion of the road.

Reeve, Murray Fearrey pointed out that the taxes were being raised.

be completed by 1978.

The council agreed to consider the possibility of oiling the Kennis Lake road from the shopping centre to the first bridge, more than other areas, because of the high amount of traffic.

When questioned about the Pine Point Road and if there was any solution to the cost of $60,000 to bring it up to standard, Reeve Fearrey suggested that perhaps the property owners in the area could make a donation which in turn would give the municipality funds to do the project.

He said that the municipality could not do the work on the road without Ministry of Transportation and Communications approval.

The land owners association suggested that perhaps a little bit of the road could be done every year.

In answer to requests by the association, the council has requested that an environmental study be conducted on the lake, and the Trent Severn Waterway stop drain off because it is a navigation problem in the area.

The municipality has also put in a request to the Ontario Provincial Police to have someone come to the next council meeting and discuss snowmobiles and trailers on Kennis Lake and other lakes in the area.

Two hired to find derelicts

A total of $14,000 has been okayed for a derelict car program in Dysart et al.

The council, Monday, announced that approval had been given to the program which would employ two people to find the cars and a wrecking company to tow them away.

Hired as locaters to find the cars are Eric Brohm and Ernie Bain.

Young Royce Smith couldn't resist splashing his mother as he was out enjoying the hot weather last Monday. The warm spell attracted many swimmers to Rotary Beach to cool off.

Container project could come to Algonquin Park

If a pilot project banning non-burnable containers in the interior of Quetico Provincial Park this summer is successful, the experiment will be extended to Algonquin Provincial Park next year, Natural Resources Minister Frank S. Miller said today.

As in Quetico, the ban would include all non-burnable food and beverage containers other than those specifically designed for re-use. Results of both projects will help determine the need for a permanent ban on all such containers, the Minister said.

"Introduction of a ban in Algonquin would reduce garbage accumulation by more than 125,000 pounds annually and represent garbage savings of approximately $85,000 which could be diverted to more productive park management programs," Mr. Miller said.

The proposed ban would be aimed primarily at reducing the volume of garbage in the interior camping areas of Algonquin. It would ensure that these camping areas of Algonquin. It would ensure that these areas remained unimpaired for future use and close to their original natural state.

Most abandoned materials are in the form of disposable food and beverage cans and bottles which decompose either very slowly or not at all, resulting in degradation of scenic values and a decline in recreational quality.

The ban would apply only to the interior camping areas where no organized garbage collection services are provided. It would not affect the majority of provincial park campers who use serviced campsites accessible by car.

The increasing popularity of canoeing and hiking has created a serious garbage problem. In inaccessible areas, garbage must be collected and flown out by Ministry aircraft at an estimated cost of $100 per ton, about three times the average cost of municipal collection services.

Report from Ottawa

BY MP BILL SCOTT

On Thursday, January 27th of this year, William C. Scott, M.P., Victoria-Haliburton, moved a motion in the House of Commons under Standing Order 26 to attempt to force a debate on the question of the future of Canadian Confederation.

At that time, Mr. Scott and his seconder, moved to adjourn the House for the purpose of discussing a specific and urgent matter regarding urgent consideration, namely, the failure of the Prime Minister to tell the House and the Canadian people what steps the Government proposed to take to counter the threat to Canadian Confederation posed by the separatist government in Quebec. Regrettably, the motion was not allowed and, thus, no debate on Canadian unity was held at that time.

This week, however, under increasing pressure by opposition parties, the Government finally agreed to give up a Wednesday afternoon for the discussion of this urgent and pressing problem. The Conservative Party, feeling that a debate should have been held much earlier, agreed to give up one of its opposition days and, thus, a two-day debate was held on Tuesday and Wednesday, July 5th and 6th.

During Question Period on the 6th of July, and in answer to a question posed by Miss Flora MacDonald, Allen MacEachern, the Government House Leader maintained that he was the first individual to bring to the attention of the House the need to discuss the question of national unity. He also mentioned that Opposition members had many opportunities to bring this before the House but had failed to do so.

The record, however, shows completely the opposite and this matter became a question of Privilege in the House earlier this week. Mr. Walter Baker, Conservative House Leader, raised the question of Privilege and indicated that in fact the Government was in error. To prove his reasoning, Mr. Baker maintained that the question was first brought to the attention of the House of Commons by the Honourable Member for Victoria-Haliburton on January 27, 1977. He also pointed out that Mr. Diefenbaker had raised the question on April 18th and, prior to that, Mr. Roche had demanded that it be discussed on March 30th. Regrettably, Mr. MacEachern ignored the facts and maintained that his original statement still was accurate. In reply, Mr. Scott rose to speak on the question and set the record quite clear by reading the actual passage from Hansard for January 27th, which indicated that he, in fact, had demanded a national debate but it had been disallowed.

PLAN N° 65-1438
AREA: 1429 sq. ft.
WIDTH: 76 ft. 8 in.

A full basement bungalow that achieves spaciousness with a low profile. The exterior is a tasteful blend of brick and siding, with shuttered windows, however, a combination of other materials accenting the low profile could easily be used.

The well lit kitchen has plenty of counter space for food preparation. The sizeable nook maximizes natural light by the use of a large bay window. A handy view window is situated over the sink.

The rear-view living, dining room features a wood burning fireplace. Sliding glass doors open to the back patio, sheltered by the offset garage wall.

The master bedroom has the luxury of a three piece shower ensuite and the convenience of a space saving pocket door.

Construction cost saving is effected by placing the main bathroom back to back to the ensuite. This bathroom serves a dual purpose as the guest powder room and for the two bedrooms. All open off the common central hall which contains guest and linen closets.

A direct door from the double garage, at the side, opens to a service hall with a washroom - toilet on the right and stairs on the left to the unfinished basement, which could be used for future development.

We have examined the 1976 financial statements of the Corporation of the Township of Snowdon. Our examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of accounting records and other supporting evidence as we considered necessary in the circumstances.
